

GoldCare Selected as the Vendor of Choice for Revera's Home Health Business

Waterloo, Ontario – October 21, 2011 – GoldCare, the market leader in healthcare management software, is pleased to announce their selection as the vendor of choice by Revera Home Health, one of Canada's largest home care providers. GoldCare will manage the scheduling and operational functions and records for Revera's home health business across Canada, which serves approximately 25,000 clients per week.

GoldCare provides community and home care organizations with an integrated approach to managing electronic health records and the circle of care. The software ensures client, employee and clinical information is readily available to all field-based caregivers and office staff through one integrated platform and easy-to-use mobile interface.

GoldCare will become the common technology platform across all Revera home health branches. The system will play a critical role in managing information generated from Revera's 5,000 home health employees as they deliver over four million hours of service annually. By selecting GoldCare, Revera has established a strong technical foundation that will keep pace with their growing presence in the home care market.

"At Revera, our focus is on helping clients live their lives to the fullest extent possible," says Trish Barbato, Senior Vice President, Home Health and Business Development at Revera. "GoldCare's healthcare management software is an important new tool that will help us deliver on that promise to the 25,000 clients we serve every week across Canada."

"Partnering with a reputable organization like Revera represents another major achievement of GoldCare's increasing adoption in the community and home care markets," says Paula Hucko, Vice President of GoldCare. "We're proud that GoldCare will help provide quality in-home care to thousands of clients across Canada."
